

Pep Rally, Variety Show Start Homecoming Activity

• AN ESTIMATED 1000 people attended the Homecoming pep rally and variety show held last Thursday night in Lisner auditorium.

The initial event of the three-day Homecoming celebration, the program featured the introduction of the five finalists for Homecoming Queen, chosen from nominees of thirty-five campus organizations. The finalists were Anne Bageant, nominee of Delta Gamma sorority; Jeanne Barnes, nominee of Delta Tau Delta fraternity; Jean Carolyn Duff, nominee of the Women's Athletic Association; Cece LeSturgeon, nominee of Strong Hall, and Janice Powers, nominee of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional fraternity in economics and business.

Milton Q. Ford, disk jockey for radio station WOL, emceed the program. The pep rally included the introduction of the football team, co-captained by Bo Austin and Paul Thompson, and the coaches; the presentation of past University gridiron stars, and the appearance of the thirty-five Homecoming Queen nominees, escorted by AFROTC cadets.

Centers On Theme

The variety show, centered on the Homecoming theme, "Parade Through the Past," included four scenes depicting the role of the University in the Trojan War, the Crusades, the Gay Nineties and the present "Rock 'n' Roll" fifties. The show closed with a grand finale, bringing the entire cast and the Homecoming committee to the spotlight.

Bev Borden and Dick Jamborsky were Homecoming co-chairmen. Nancy Wilson and Carol Dalton planned the pep rally and variety show. Donald C. Kline, professor of art, was production manager; Miss Elizabeth Burtner, professor of physical education for women, directed the Dance Production groups, and Diane Gaumer was assistant dance director.

Script and Direction

The script was written and directed by Verlyn Brown Flieger, with the assistance of Ed Ferero, managing director of University production. Bette Kolonia was Queen's chairman.

Stage decor was the work of Professor Kline, Meredith Eagon, George Becker and Al Justice. Working on costumes were Mrs. Donald C. Kline, Rosanne Liggett, Andy Brown and Jane M. O'Brien. Ken Flieger handled rehearsals and narration, and music was provided by the University pep band and Leon Brusiloff's orchestra.

Debaters Talk On Campaign

• THE ENOSIAN DEBATING society will present a 1956 version of the Great Quadrennial debate at 9 p.m. tomorrow in Monroe 101.

The special pre-election presentation of major issues in the current presidential campaign will have two principle speakers, with a faculty member as moderator.

Eugene Lambert, president of the Debate club and award winner in Georgetown and Harvard tournaments, will present the case for the Democrats. Ed Felegy, winner of awards at the North-South tournament at the University of West Virginia and the Eastern Forensic at Fordham University, will speak for the Republican ticket.

The debate will be open to all students, faculty members and friends of the University.

Fraternities Pledge 138

• FINAL RESULTS OF fraternity rush, released this week by the office of the director of men's activities, show a total of 138 men pledging thirteen University fraternities.

Thomas Adair pledged Sigma Nu; Richard Axtell, Pi Kappa Alpha; Howard Bash, Pi Kappa Alpha; Jerome Bass, Tau Epsilon Phi; Robert Beaman, Tau Epsilon Phi; Joel Beiser, Phi Alpha; Robert Bell, Pi Kappa Alpha and Dennis Bennet, Sigma Nu.

Also, Ernest Betts, Kappa Sigma; Ronald Bierwagen, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; James Black, Pi Kappa Alpha; Roger Black, Acacia; Neil Blair, Kappa Sigma; Ronald Block, Tau Epsilon Phi; Lawrence Boehly, Delta Tau Delta and Harold Boerlin, Pi Kappa Alpha.

Also, Earl Boulligny, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Chuck Callaway, Delta Tau Delta; Roy Carver, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Steve Chase, Pi Kappa Alpha; Joseph Chesnek, Sigma Chi; Carlton Colquitt, Sigma Chi; Edward Creel, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Viris Cromer, Sigma Nu.

Also, Thomas Dobson, Kappa Sigma; Eugene Doyle, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Emmett Dye, Acacia; William Ellis, Delta Tau Delta; James England, Pi Kappa Alpha; Robert Figley, Phi Sigma Kappa; Allan Fink, Tau Epsilon Phi and Louis Fisher, Sigma Chi.

Also, Pete Garofalo, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Robert Goggin, Sigma Nu; Alan Goldstein, Alpha Epsilon Pi; Bart Gordon, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Elsam Hanifah, Phi Sigma Kappa; John Hatch, Kappa Sigma; Thomas Hayes, Kappa Sigma; Ross Heasley, Acacia; John Heldur, Sigma Chi, and Joseph Herbert, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Cece Le Sturgeon Gets Queen's Title at '56 Ball

• HOMECOMING QUEEN Cece Le Sturgeon and her escort, Student Council Prexy, Joe Hince.

• THE 1956 HOMECOMING Ball reached a dramatic peak in the coronation of Cece Le Sturgeon as Homecoming Queen.

A crowd of over 2000 filled the National Guard Armory last Saturday night, to dance to the music of Hal McIntyre and his orchestra and witness the crowning. The program also featured the presentation of Homecoming float trophies and tapping by Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership honorary, and Gate and Key, fraternity men's honorary.

Miss Le Sturgeon was crowned by Joe Hince, president of the Student Council and her escort for the evening. Attending her were the four other finalists in the Homecoming Queen election, Anne Bageant, Jeanne Barnes, Jean Carolyn Duff and Janice Powers.

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, Sigma Kappa sorority and the Engineers' Council took first places in the Homecoming float contest. Placing second in the fraternity division was Delta Tau Delta, with Phi Sigma Kappa receiving honorable mention. Delta Gamma placed second in sorority competition, with Chi Omega taking honorable mention. The Wandering Greek Society finished second among independent organizations.

Also highlighting the Ball's intermission was the presentation of a certificate of appreciation to the 1956 football team and its coaches by Judge James R. Kirkland, president of the General Alumni association. Team co-captains Bo Austin and Paul Thompson accepted the certificate, which will hang in the office of the University's graduate manager of athletics.

Intermission Music

Jack Morton and his orchestra provided intermission music. The Queen's crowning was followed by a dance honoring the queen and her court.

Other Homecoming weekend events were the annual pep rally and variety show Thursday night; the parade and float contest Friday afternoon; the Homecoming football game Friday night; and the alumni luncheon and symposium Saturday afternoon.

Friday's Dance Sparks Union

• "THE ROMANY RENDEZVOUS," third in a series of Friday night social dances, will be held from 9 to 12 this Friday evening, November 2, in the Student Union.

Sponsored by The Student Council and the Columbian College, in conjunction with the Dance Production groups, the "Romany Rendezvous" will take place in a gypsy atmosphere and will feature the bowing of a gypsy violinist. The gypsy flavor will be carried over from the Big Sis "Gypsy Smorgasbord," which will precede the dance. Scheduled for Lisner lounge from 7 to 9 p.m., the "Gypsy Smorgasbord" is one of the mixers for Big and Little Sis.

After the Smorgasbord, Big and Little Sisters will attend the dance as hostesses. In order to distinguish the hostesses, the girls will wear colorful nametags in the shape of a gypsy head.

Judging by the overwhelming success of the past two Friday night dances, a large crowd is expected.

Players Schedule Comedy's Try-outs

• PRELIMINARY TRY-OUTS for "Girl Crazy," the University Players' first musical comedy production in five years, will be held at 7:30 p.m. November 5 and 6 in Lisner auditorium.

Staged in a western setting, the show features the music of George and Ira Gershwin, with book by Guy Bolton and John McGowan. Signed as director of the University production is Irl Mowery. Mr. Mowery has directed professional-

Dorset and Brattleboro, Vermont.

The show will be presented November 14 and 15 in Lisner auditorium. Musical director will be Al Bruffey and choral director will be Justin Lawrie, assisted by Bill Dotson. Assisting with music will be Bruce Mencher and Robert Bloch.

Donald C. Kline, professor of art, and Virginia Page will design the set, with the aid of Barbara Staub and Tillie Mossesso. Choreography will be the work of Miss Elizabeth Burtner, professor of physical education for women, and Verlyn Brown Flieger. Chairman of costumes is Jan Swearingen.

Drama Jobs

• POSITIONS ARE OPEN on the stage crew and technical staff of "Girl Crazy." The orchestra needs instrumentalists, especially violinists. The production also requires rehearsal pianists, vocal directors, stage hands and technical advisers, according to Ed Ferero, managing director of University dramatic activities.

Panel Speaks On Presidency

by Nancy Codel

• "THE AMERICAN Presidency" was the topic of the annual Homecoming symposium held last Saturday afternoon in Lisner auditorium.

The panel, consisting of Dean W. Reed West, professor of political science; Dr. Wood Gray, professor of American history, and Dr. Richard C. Haskett, assistant professor of American history, was moderated by Dr. Myron L. Koenig, professor of American history.

Leading off the discussion, Dean West pointed out the highly personalized position of the President and the separation of powers between the executive and legislative branches.

Dr. Haskett credited the dynamic expansion of authority to a fundamental change in society. Since 1789, he pointed out, the United States has been transformed not only from an agrarian to an industrial nation, but also from a national to an international position. He emphasized the amazing growth of the authority of the White House as a result of the dominant personalities of such Presidents as Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Dr. Gray attempted to explain the popularity of Presidents by what he called "a crossing of two forces": environmental influences, such as peace and prosperity, and personal qualities, such as sympathy and empathy.

• TWO OF EIGHT Brazilian students from the University of Sao Paulo recently presented a collection of volumes about Brazilian culture, history, poetry and literature to the University library. Left to right are Antonio Paulo, University librarian John Russell Mason and Sergio Viegas Prado. The students represented the Inter-American University Friendship Mission.

Music Room Gets Funds From Show

• THE UNIVERSITY Panhellenic Council will support a fashion show to be held in Lisner auditorium November 7 in an effort to raise funds for the establishment of a music room in the University library.

The fashion show sponsored by United Penwomen will be presented by Julius Garfinckel and company. Panhel's participation in the show will benefit directly the music room project.

Each sorority member and pledge will be asked to sell two 50-cent tickets to the show good for seats in the auditorium's upper mezzanine and balcony. Tickets will also be sold in the Student Union.

Garfinckel's will present two showings November 7 one at 2:15 p.m. and one at 8 p.m. University students may attend either of the programs.

Bev Borden heads the Panhel committee handling University ticket sales. Committee members are Carolyn Rowe, Carol Dalton and Nancy Beale.

Honoraries Tap 22 At Dance Saturday

• OMICRON DELTA KAPPA, men's leadership honorary, tapped seven men at intermission at the Homecoming Ball, while Gate and Key, fraternity men's honorary, tapped fifteen new initiates.

Tapped for ODK were Raymond Garcia, vice president of the Student Council, co-chairman of the student enrollment committee and president of Old Men; Eugene Horowitz, a member of the upper ten percent of his class and HATCHET advertising manager; James Newheiser, a member of the upper ten percent of his class, comptroller of the Student Council and editor of the Student Handbook, and Charles W. Thompson, a member of the upper ten percent of his class, day vice president of the Student Bar Association and a member of the Law Review staff.

Also, Lawrence Wiser, past Law School representative to the Student Council and representative of the University's Student Bar association to a national SBA convention; Walter Baumann, a member of the upper ten percent of his class and outstanding AFROTC cadet, and Charles A. Hobbs, a member of the upper ten percent of his class, editor of the Law Review and past editor of Amicus Curiae.

Tapped as honorary members of ODK were Dr. Calvin D. Linton, associate dean of the Columbian College and professor of English literature, and Dr. Martin A. Mason, professor of civil engineering and dean of the School of Engineering. Darrell Rohloff, ODK president, conducted the tapping.

Gate and Key initiates tapped were Leo Ballard of Tau Epsilon Phi; Chris Catoe, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Ed Felegy, Acacia; Mr. Garcia, Sigma Nu; Norton Hardesty, Kappa Sigma; Don Headley, Delta Tau Delta; William Holt, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Jake Holtzer, Sigma Chi.

Also, Steve Judge and Ronald

Who's Who . . .

• WITHIN A FEW days the Student Life Committee will send its list of recommended students for Who's Who to the national chapter. We trust Student Life's choice is dictated by their sense of responsibility to select only students in activities who have made genuinely large contributions to the University.

About 55 applications have been submitted to fill the 35 or so vacancies which will be allotted to the University. We again suggest that if we are to continue Who's Who, only those students who merit an outstanding nod, be tapped for the group. If the Committee fills the quota handed down from national, which is arbitrarily based on total school enrollment, it will again compromise merit for mediocrity.

About 650 colleges and universities participate in Who's Who but most are small institutions such as Dunbarton, Eureka, Georgian Court and Kings College. Among those schools that do not appear are Brown, Cornell, Columbia University, Dartmouth, Harvard, Princeton, Yale—all top-flight schools—and such important state universities as Florida, Illinois, Michigan, North Carolina and Pennsylvania. George Washington is not a small college, and we need not participate in Who's Who for the purpose of achieving recognition.

Several members of the Student Life Committee have expressed their desire to tighten admission to Who's Who. We agree with these persons and hope the remainder of the Committee will concur so that Who's Who will cease to be a subject of mirth and start to be an organization of merit.

Bells . . .

• BELLS ARE BEAUTIFUL. Bells are wonderful. We love Bells. Everyone loves Bells, we hope.

There are the storied Bells of Saint Petersburg which flood the city with music at twilight. There is the solitary Bell pealing its song from a small church in the wilderness. There is the cathedral Bell, the church Bell, the door Bell, the telephone Bell and the elephant Bell. But particularly, there is the wonderful, painfully delightful, shriek of the Bell that signifies the end of class.

What student hasn't thrilled to the clamor of the bell in the Library after a long dry lecture or the persistent buzz of the bell in Government or Building C at the end of a late night class? But, where is the Bell in Monroe?? It's been lost. Long weary hours are fidgeted away waiting for it. Professors look vainly at their notes and wonder why they haven't covered the whole hour. Students look furtively at their watches and wonder how they are going to get to the fourth floor of the Library in time for the next class which started five minutes ago.

We love our Bells, but we wish that they all rang at the same time, too. We get out of class by the Bell in Government just at the time our next class is starting. This can be pretty sad, particularly if we are going to the Library. They have a fast Bell there. They start the class a few minutes early, sometimes.

Yes, we love our Bells. We love them so much that we want to hear them peal out resonantly and all together at straight up and ten past the hour all day long in every building. And please, can someone help us find our lost Bell in Monroe?

—Delayed Rush
by Ernest Auerbach

• SEVERAL WEEKS AGO this reporter discussed the importance of fraternities at the University and the fraternities primary weakness, their lack of selectivity in choosing men. A solution was also discussed—the elimination of first semester pledging.

There has been considerable comment, pro and con: The "cons" say, "Delayed rushing sounds good in theory, but it won't work here." "Admittedly," this side continues, "we do often beg for pledges. We know this is wrong . . . but." Here the "buts" slap back the usual arguments. "No pledges, no money; no money, no rushing; no rushing, no pledges." They also claim a one semester freeze on pledging would not only cause a loss of interest in fraternities but would also result in one semester of dirty rushing.

Other Greeks agree that a system which rushes immediately results in a weak system. "If rush events were taboo for new students, stiff Interfraternity Council penalties will keep violations down where integrity won't." At a number of schools employing delayed rushing, rush functions continue throughout the year. The cost is kept to a minimum with a strictly enforced I.F.C. ban on beer to rushmen.

We hope that the question of delayed rushing will soon be taken up by the I.F.C. There is a mile of purpose between a dynamic society of Greek students not only working for their own pleasure but for the good of their school, and a stagnant "upper estate" of "fraternity firsters" who cloak behind the fraternity pin for a sign of "belonging."

Busy Carolyn To Be Wed in June

by Sam Himmelfarb

• HOW WOULD you like to be able to combine top positions in organizations and a busy social life with a Q.P.I. of 3.5? Everyone wants to, but one person who has succeeded in actually doing it is Carolyn Cronin.

In spite of her outstanding record, Carolyn's attitude toward other people and toward her responsibilities is unassuming and modest. She is a hard worker who gets results when she agrees to do a job, as those who work with her on the HATCHET Board of

CAROLYN CRONIN

Editors will readily confirm. For her work on the paper during the past two years she was elected to Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary. A journalism major, Carolyn plans to enter the field in some way connected with fashion or with public relations work.

In Many Activities

This senior's varied activities include co-chairman of the 1956 Career Conference, Women's Coordinating Board and the Interfraternity Athletic Board, as well as Colonial Boosters. She is president of Chi Omega and also a member of Delphi, sorority women's honorary. Last year she was awarded the Panhellenic Scholarship, which is given annually to the woman who has contributed most to the sorority system at George Washington University.

Carolyn entered the University in her sophomore year after attending the University of New Hampshire. In less than three years here she proved, by her contributions to campus activities, that she was worthy of being elected to Mortar Board as chapter editor. Incidentally, she tells us that she is the only member of Mortar Board who doesn't get a • QUESTION: WHAT IS your opinion of this year's system of selecting the Homecoming Queen? The candidates were judged one-third on beauty, one-third on personality and one-third on activities. The emphasis on activities is new this year.

Faye Calloway—I think it is a good idea, as it gives us a Homecoming Queen that is a good representative of George Washington. Hathorne Gudlin—Beauty and physical appearance should be first, though activities should be counted, too.

Bruce Aabel—I think that they should be judged on beauty. That is the usual form in a beauty contest, and the Homecoming Queen should be the school beauty.

Jean Scott—I think all three should be counted—particularly activities, as the Homecoming Queen is a symbol of the University, and contributions to the University should count.

Dan Taylor—I am definitely in favor of it. A Homecoming Queen should be more than a beauty; she should take an active interest in the University.

Stan Wollowac—A Queen should be chosen for beauty. If you are choosing an outstanding student, it would be on activities. But this is our Homecoming Queen—our beauty.

Earl Smith—I think it is a very good idea because a girl shouldn't represent the school unless she has an active interest in it.

EGGHEADS' CORNER

by Al Rode

• IMMEDIATELY AFTER publication of last week's HATCHET, hundreds of overjoyed students rushed into the Student Union annex, asking if it were really true that "Eggheads' Corner" had permanently departed from the middle pages. I hasten to assure you, dear fans, that the phrase at the end of the previous column: "And So Egghead Rests" was merely an editor's contrivance to fill an unexpected space and not an epitaph to this well-liked and widely read literary work. Well, my mother likes it and you know darn well Mothers are always right.

I picked up the paper a few mornings ago and read through the current debate on the banning of the hydrogen bomb tests. President Eisenhower, who seems to be the pollster's favorite in the election race, is against the ban. So is J. Pinkerton Higgins, but for different reasons, and I am inclined to agree with him.

"Why ban the tests?" asked J. P. "After all, look at the great good they could do for humanity. That is, if they were handled right."

Pick New Chairmen

• THE STUDENT COUNCIL Sunday afternoon selected William Hinely as editor of the 1957 Student Handbook and Ed Rutsch and Pepita Lassalle as co-chairmen of the 1957 Colonial Cruise.

"How's that?" I said in blissful ignorance.

"Well, they've never used real, live people at the center of the blast and it might be interesting to see the results. For purely scientific purposes, of course."

"But that's murder! You can't go around killing people for the sake of science!"

"This, my boy, would not be murder," said Higgins. "This would be the most generous act any nation has ever done for the world. Think of all the worthless, irritating and destructive human beings that contribute absolutely nothing to humanity. Here, in one mighty swoop, they could be disintegrated on the pyre of empiricism and at the same time, add immeasurably to scientific knowledge."

I pondered on this for a moment. Now that he mentioned it.

"You mean like Elvis Presley?" I asked.

"Why pick on him when there are so many more deserving of the honor? My first choice would be the quizmasters on TV, who trade human misery for soap commercials. Can't you just visualize one of them saying, ' . . . and now, Mrs. Jones, will you go for the $2,000 or will you take a year's supply of food for your thirteen starving children?' and as he concludes the sentence, he's etherized

Return Contracts

on the spot by a one-man bomb." "And how about TV writers that steal happy endings from each other?" I said.

"Yes," said Higgins, "and the people who manufacture ptomaine hot dogs at the ball games, and Walt Alston, and all the umps that call strikes on Carl Furillo . . ."

"And the pseudo-intellectuals on the second floor of the Union," I added, "and profs that mark on the curve, and registrars who schedule classes on Friday nights . . ."

"Don't forget the long-winded politicians," continued Higgins.

"And the girl that broke her date with me last week-end," I suggested.

"Please, no personal gripes," Higgins insisted. "This has to be done on a purely scientific basis."

"All right," I agreed. "We can't leave out the cartoonists that draw Smilin' Jack, Annie Rooney and Mary Worth . . ."

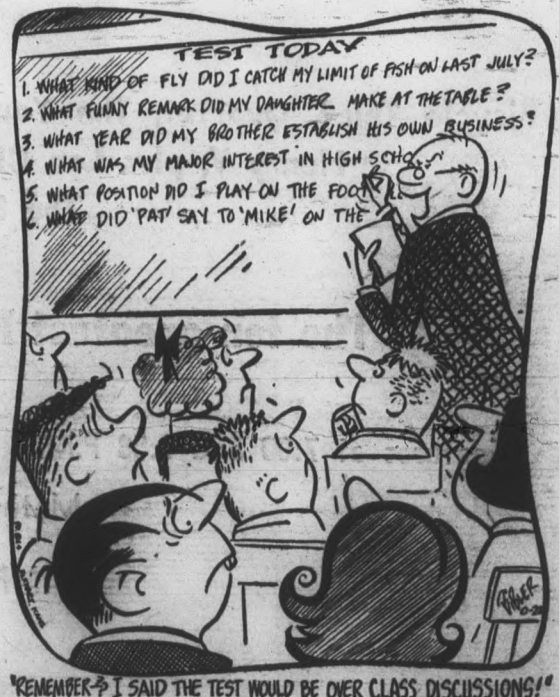

"Or New York writers that publish books which are always entitled 'The Thirteenth Street, Tigers and their Molls.'"

"Or middle-aged hot rods . . ."

"How about short-order cooks that drain french fries in their hands?"

"They rank pretty high," I said. "Let's not forget that little guy at Leo's that slices sandwich meat with a micrometer."

This gave us a pretty sizeable list for a starter. If any of our readers have further additions, we'll be glad to incorporate them. What's that? The guy who writes that miserable column on the editorial page? Like J. P. said, let us not get personal about this. I told you my mother likes it.

REMEMBER—I SAID THE TEST WOULD BE OVER CLASS DISCUSSIONS!

by Hester Heale

WELL, LADS—WE did it. We finally won a Homecoming game! We also switched back to Eastern Standard time in the wee hours of Sunday morning, gaining an extra hour for celebrating the long-awaited victory, partying, and living it up, all of which added up to the maddest, gayest and greatest Homecoming that G. W. has ever had.

Thursday night's pep rally and variety show, featuring our own version of Elvis (Lennie Metallo) and appropriately swooning girls, was better than ever, and the game Friday night—well, that goes without saying! And lest it go unmentioned, many thanks to the stalwart GW-ites who sat through the rain and cheered the team on to victory.

After the game, brothers and guests of AEPI waded back to the house for their annual post-game buffet. Several alums were noted among the crowd, which consumed the food in record time and had a ball.

The Homecoming Ball the following night was the biggest and best ever, as co-chairmen Bev Borden and Dick Jamborsky had promised. Seen boozing it up at the SAE tables were Tom McHan and Sandy Dunlap, Jack Hotelling and Jan Swearingin, Dick Martin and Chi O Sandy Monti, Dave Trask and Betty Jo Hancock, Will Stull and Chi O Helen Niles and Spero Aspiotis and Marie Kloss.

After a real great pre-dance cocktail party, the brothers of TEP cavalcaded to the Armory en masse and had a ball. Among the gay couples partying it up were Herbie "Tex" Silver and Louise Meyerovitch, Ronnie Spitalney and Sue Rome, Marty Zipern and Judy Jaffe, Al Kay and Pearl Wolkison and newly installed Gate and Key man Leo Ballard and Charlotte Brem.

Representing Phi Sigma Kappa on the dance floor Saturday night were Joe and Joan King, Chuck Johnson and Theta pledge Dixie Baridon, Buddy Rae and Pi Phi pledge Nancy Oldham, Ed Turco and Kathy Denver and prexy Bill Holt and Kappa Delta Leanne Lutz. Earlier that evening the Phi Sigs and their dates got in condition for the big dance at a cocktail party engineered by Phi Sig transfer from West Virginia, Bill Cantwright. What a brawl! (Personally, we suspect that Bill smuggled some West Virginia "moonshine" to G. W. for the party!)

Highlight of the ball was the crowning of Cece Le Sturgeon as the 1956 Homecoming Queen by S. C. prexy and Cece's escort for the evening, Joe Hince.

Speaking of the Pikes, that was some float they made for the parade.

rade. Congrats to "Whispering" Alicks and John Posta on the terrific job they and their underlings did on the float. Twosomes at the Pike house for several weeks now are Bernie Pass and Betsy Evans, Tiger Adams and DG Nancy Folliard, Dan "Protoplasm" Gilham and Bobbie O'Neil, Al Schnieder and Joyce Garwin, Jim Douglas and Fran Adams, Mike Thaden and Pot Roberts and John Beaver and Inez Tonelli.

At the end of the ball SPE Don Whyte and Chi O Ann Cole managed to get halfway across the Armory with the Queen's chair (they thought it would look good in the chapter room) when suddenly emcee Dick Jamborsky, ever alert in an emergency, spectacularly felled them with a well-aimed flying tackle. Having survived a pre-dance cocktail party (at which pledges' dates were allowed to swim in the punch bowl, one at a time) and the ball itself, it was no wonder that couples were seen dancing on top of the bar at SPE's post-ball party back at the house.

Other post-ball parties included a blast at Frances Bran's house, with Fran's date Eddie Feldman acting as co-host. AEPI was in the majority at the party, being well-represented by Al "Egghead" Rode and Letty Kentz, Al Marks and Ruth Enis, alum Fred Lusken and Phi Sig Rosa Wiener ('56), and Charles Levy and Doris Rosenberg. Late arrivals included TEP Mike Kammen and Myrna Silverman and Dave Steinman and Gregg Mayer.

After a few hours of sleep the Sigma Chi's were at it again, this time with a post-Homecoming breakfast at the Sigma Chi house. Head chefs for the occasion were Sig Bob Jewett's parents. Prominent Sig couples attending were Jake Holtzer and Joanne Little, Vern Yates and Patty Jorman, Paul Welch and Phyllis Charnley and George Dancu and Connie McDavitt.

The party turned into a real casual one when several of the guests donned Bermudas et al for the festivities. Some of the "just plain (and unattached) folk" there were Red Claypool and Kappa Morna Campbell, Mike Tarnawa and SK Jean Jablonsky, Andy Gabor and Princess Anne Bageant, DG; Al Pope and Kappa Bay Carter, Carlton Calquitt and Kappa Angela Tehaan, Shorty Varley and Kappa Bev Faulk and Jim Palitz and Marsha Daly.

A casual blast was had by all at the Sigma Nu house last Sunday. The Bermuda-shorted Thetas, inspired the dignified Sigma Nu's to let their hair down to the point where Dick Salemo and Bob Van H. began re-enacting last year's hula with Janet Marshall and Gale Shaver.

Now she is already looking forward to June 15, 1957, when she will become Mrs. Jim Posey. A Sigma Nu pledge at the University last year, Jim is now working for Congressman Poag in Waco, Texas, "but he will be home on December 22, thank goodness!" Until then Carolyn will have many things to keep her busy because she likes to feel useful.

And the HATCHET, Mortar Board and Chi Omega are awfully glad she does!

LANGUAGE MADE SIMPLE: No. 1

In this day of swift international communications, like radio, television, and the raft, it becomes increasingly important for all of us to have a solid grounding in foreign languages. Accordingly, I have asked the makers of Philip Morris whether I might not occasionally forego levity in this column and instead use it for a short lesson in language.

"Of course, silly!" chuckled the makers, tousling my yellow hair. Oh, grand men they are, the makers of Philip Morris, just as full of natural goodness as the cigarettes they make. "Of course, fond boy, you may occasionally forego levity in this column and instead use it for a short lesson in language!" said the makers and tossed me up and down in a blanket until, rosy with laughing, I bade them desist, and then we all had basins of farina and smoked Philip Morris and sang songs until the campfire had turned to embers.

For our first lesson in language, let us take up French, which has often been called the lingua franca of France. We will approach French in a new manner, because, to be brutally frank, the way it is taught in our colleges is archaic and obsolete. Why all this emphasis on grammar? After all, when we get to France does it matter if we can parse and conjugate? Of course not!

So for the first exercise, translate the following real, true-to-life dialogue between two real, true-to-life Frenchmen named Claude (pronounced Clohd) and Pierre (also pronounced Clohd):

CLAUDE: Good morning, sir. Can you direct me to the nearest monk?

PIERRE: I have regret, but I am a stranger here myself.

CLAUDE: Is it that you come from the France?

PIERRE: You have right.

CLAUDE: I also. Come, let us mount the airplane and return ourselves to the France.

PIERRE: We must defend from smoking until the airplane raises itself.

CLAUDE: Ah, now it has raised itself. Will you have a Philippe Maurice?

PIERRE: Mercy.

CLAUDE: In the garden of my aunt it makes warm in the summer and cold in the winter.

PIERRE: What a coincidence. In the garden of my aunt too!

CLAUDE: Ah, we are landing. Regard how the airplane depresses itself.

PIERRE: What shall you do in the France?

CLAUDE: I shall make a promenade and see various sights of cultural and historical significance. What shall you do?

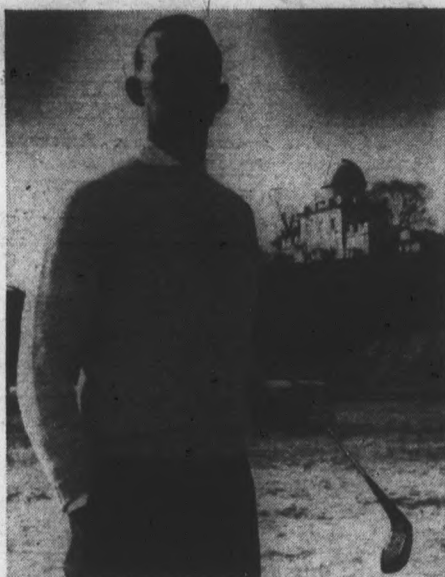

PIERRE: I think I shall try to pick up the stewardess.

CLAUDE: Long live the France!

Society Organizes

THE UNIVERSITY CHAPTER of the Society for the Advancement of Management will hold an organization meeting and elect new officers at 5 p.m. tomorrow in Woodhull house.

A national professional organization of management in industry, commerce, government and education, the society seeks to establish contact between executives in business and students preparing to go into business. Its members distribute information on methods of industry and management, members also participate in activities promoting the art and science of management.

"Advanced Management," the society's official monthly magazine, contains articles on management policy, reviews of current books of significance to management, original contributions on management and procedures, and articles on practical management "know-how."

Students registered for a college degree are eligible for membership.

Case Club Holds Its Semi-Finals

THE VAN VLECK Case club will hold semi-final rounds in its annual law students' competition today and Thursday in Stockton 10.

Charles Hobbs and Gordon Thatcher meet James Stokes and Paul Blaustein today. Thursday's competition pits William Beemer and Bruce Buell against Al Bernstein and Charles Atchison.

This week's eight semi-finalists will be rated with ten Case club members elected as semi-finalists last spring.

● THE INTRAMURAL Football schedule passed the half-way mark Sunday with all teams living up to pre-season expectations.

The results of the third weeks actions are: League A—PIKA 24-AEPI 0; Newman club 12-Sigma Nu (A) 6; SPE 6-KA 0. League B—DTPhi 27-Theta Tau 14; DTD (A) 13-Med School 10; TEP 8-TKE 0. League C—Phi Alpha 40-ROTC 0; Sigma Chi 19-DTD (B) 0. League D—Kappa Sigma 6-Sigma Nu(B)0; SAE won on a forfeit by Acacia.

Phi Alpha, last year's intramural champion, overwhelmed ROTC with a strong aerial attack. Herb Kushner passed for three touchdowns and ran for two more in a great individual display. Kushner hit Warren Danick with two TD passes and connected with Ardie Baker for another.

Tau Epsilon Phi got on the winning trail as Al Fink swept 63 yards around end for a TD. TEP also scored a safety to seal up its first victory of the season.

In a free scoring contest DTPhi won out over Theta Tau. Barham's 98-yard kick-off return was the highlight of the game.

In a tightly fought battle the Newman Club squeaked by Sigma Nu. Both teams scored through the air as neither defense gave way. Sigma Nu's lone score came on a pass from Mark Spies to Nick Smart, while the Newman club scored on Weber's two touchdown heaves.

Ross Brannon led Sigma Chi to its first win of the season throwing two touchdown passes to Lou Fisher and running 80-yards for another.

PIKA, a strong contender for the league crown, ran all over AEPi. Sileo ran for two TD's while Bill De La Verne and John Jolly each scored one.

Next weeks schedule will feature the meeting of two undefeated clubs when PiKA plays the Newman club. The winner of the contest should become the League A champion as no other team can match their record.

Sailors Finish Second Behind Navy In Meet

● ONE OF THE less publicized but more successful varsity representatives of G. W. is the Sailing Team.

Operating from Buzzard's Point on the Anacostia river, they have massed a considerable number of distinctions and are considered the Washington area's outstanding participant in their field. A look at this year's record helps to explain why.

The season started with the winning of the Triangular meet with Georgetown and Catholic University on Oct. 6. Then they took second place in a tough Pentagonal meet on Oct 13. During Homecoming Weekend, while everybody's attention was focused on the National Guard Armory and Griffith Stadium, G. W. sailors copped another second place finish, this time at the Greater Washington meet.

A small band of sailors comprise the team and keep bringing in the victories for G. W. George Collins, who had three firsts in this weekend regatta, Rick Davis, Jim Schick, Pete Gianukakis, and Virginia Raven are skippers. Jane O'Brien and Betty Berry are crews.

The winner of League D rests on the outcome of the Phi Sigma-Kappa-SAE game. Both teams are undefeated so far, but SAE hasn't been tested, having won two games on forfeits.

G. W. Faces Last Major Hurdle In Mountaineers

by Bill De La Vergne

• WHEN THE COLONIALS take the field this Saturday at Morgantown against West Virginia, they will be facing their biggest hurdle to the Southern Conference Championship, a national ranking, and an undefeated season.

Coach Bo Sherman has scouted West Virginia on at least two occasions this season and knows the Buff will have to play a flawless and aggressive game if they hope to clear this hurdle. The Mountaineers, who lost last Saturday to Penn State and now own a 3-3-0 season record, are "up" for this game. They will be protecting a Southern Conference win streak of 18 consecutive games.

West Virginia employs the split T and has a diversified attack although its fullbacks carry the ball almost half the time. Larry Krutko and Noel Whipkey, alternating fullbacks, are averaging 5.9 and 5.3 yards respectively.

Quarterback Mickey Trimarki was called on to fill the shoes of the brilliant Freddy Wyant, and has done an outstanding job. Trimarki owns a 25-for-64 completion record and, although he has had nine passes intercepted and has thrown only one for a touchdown, Mickey is a dangerous passer who can break a game wide open at any time.

Coach Art Lewis can start a line whose average weight is 210 pounds. The ends are Roger Chaney and Joe Kopinsky; tackles, Barry Blake and Bill Underdonk; guards, Joe Nicely and Bob Guenther, and center, Chuck Howley.

In the backfield, along with Trimarki and either Krutko or Whipkey, will be halfbacks Ralph Anastasi and Bob Snider. Snider, an ex-GI, does all the punting and place kicking for the Mountaineers and is considered as West Virginia's "clutch" player.

Jack Robbits, whose 99-yard punt return against VMI was the longest in major-college football last season, finally seems to be running in top form. Robbits has been hampered with minor injuries in WVU's earlier games, but was one of the top ground gainers in the Mountaineers 16-6 loss to Penn State. He will alternate at one of the halfback slots and should see plenty of action.

In the series dating back to 1920 West Virginia holds a 7-6-0 edge, having won the last four meetings.

Colonials Win First Homecoming Since 1949, Nip W&M 16-14

By Paul Truntich

• A TREMENDOUS SECOND half comeback by William & Mary nearly upended the Colonials Friday night but the Buff held on to win, 16-14, for their first Homecoming victory since 1949.

Trailing 16-0 at intermission, William & Mary blasted G. W.'s ground and aerial defenses in the second half to pull within breathing distance. But with the Indians in possession on their own 41 and the scoreboard reading 16-14, Bo Austin intercepted a pass in the final minute and a half of play to kill W & M's chances of an upset.

Dick Claypool's nineteen-yard field goal early in the second quarter proved to be the margin of victory for the Buff. G. W. had crossed the goal line a few plays earlier on a Ray Looney pass to Paul Thompson but a penalty nullified the score. On fourth down Claypool booted the ball between the uprights for the deciding points of the game.

As much as William & Mary dominated the second half, the Buff likewise controlled the first two periods. The Colonials gave up only 18 yards rushing and passing to the Indians, while accumulating 119. But the second half was a different story as William & Mary ran roughshod over the Colonials, 177 yards to only 28, and not giving up a first down the entire half.

Two sophomores, halfback Ted Colna and end Don Herman, played key roles in the Colonial victory. The hard-running Colna scored G. W.'s second touchdown and personally accounted for 28 of the 32 yards in the drive. Ted now is the Buff's leading ball carrier with 195 yards for a 4.6 average. Herman, elevated to the second string two weeks ago, made a nice catch of a ten-yard scoring pass from Jack HENZES for his second TD of the year.

G. W. threatened early in the first quarter after Mike Sommer intercepted a pass on the W & M 45. The Buff registered three first downs as they marched to the six for a first down. Three line plays moved the ball to the one, but on fourth down Sommer was smeared for a two-yard loss.

Late in the first period Austin quick kicked 57 yards to the William & Mary one-yard line. On third down Charley Sidwell booted out of danger to his 44 where Sommer brought the kick back to the 36. A few plays later Looney connected with Thompson for 16 yards to the 16. Austin bulled for three to the 12 and Looney tore through for seven more and a first down on the five. Here the attack bogged down, and Claypool kicked a nineteen yard field goal to send the Buff ahead 3-0.

Henzes recovered a fumble on the Indians 25 midway in the second stanza, and the Colonials were in business again. Fullback Bob Shuba picked up 15 yards in three carries down to the 10. Then Henzes flipped a ten-yard scoring aerial to end Don Herman. Spera converted.

Still in the second period the Buff scored again. Guard Marion Hoar set up the score when he rushed quarterback Secules, made him fumble, and recovered the ball on the W & M 30. Four plays later Colna put it over from four yards out. Spera missed the extra point but G. W. led at halftime, 16-0.
